The Visitor Information Centre . . .

. . . located at the Tidal Power plant in Annapolis Royal was very busy for the 2012 season. Under the competent management of Sandy Burrell, we counselled close to 11000 visitors. Over 6000 of these visitors were from Canada, 3000 from the US and 1500 from outside of North America. The VIC is operated by the Annapolis Board of Trade with funding from both federal and municipal government levels. Even with this funding, we still experience a shortfall in revenue which is supplemented by ADBOT. ADBOT invites any paid up member to advertise their business at the VIC. It could be a collage of pictures depicting your store, an actual sample of your merchandise; your imagination is your best resource! Where else can you find 11000 clients so close to your business? The VIC will be opening again this year on Victoria Day weekend. Be sure to stop in and say hello to our staff!

Tree News

It's April now. This March was so much colder now than in 2012. Nevertheless all our spring bloomers are ready to go the moment it gets warm and the sun has a lot more strength. Do you know the trees that bloom the earliest in the spring?

The star magnolias (magnolia stellata and loebnerii) will be the first to show some white at the court house and the Historic Gardens. There is a self guided magnolia map available at the Historic Gardens. That way you can find all the magnolias in Town and know their name and parentage. A lot of magnolias species have been crossed with one another, the parentage will tell you what their "parents" are....it's a great experience when you look at all the different colours and shapes. Also have your camera ready, magnolias blossoms are very satisfying to photograph or paint.

Our elm and red maple trees are also coming into bloom. They have very similar blossoms. Often they are high up in the tree but will give the crown a red and yellow shine. They are quite beautiful and interesting flowers when you look at them closely. This is also a good way to identify trees and know for sure if you have an elm or a red maple in you yard.

Elm tree injections will happen as soon as the first leaves of the elm come out which happens right after they finish blooming. If you are interested in the "Dutch Trig" program (protecting elm trees from Dutch elm disease) email angelika-waldow@bellaliant.net or call 532-0161.

Wishing you a great spring, enjoy the natural world unfolding around you!
