WHAT'S UP ANNAPOLIS?

Well, what a winter we are having ! From a not-so-white Christmas and plus 8 on Christmas Day, to the freezing snowy New Year. Seeing fresh snow on the frozen French Basin helps us remember what a beautiful part of the province we are so fortunate to live in.

For those that do enjoy the snow, why not strap on those cross-country skis, and try out the Harvest Moon rail trail: perfect for getting into shape and blowing out the cobwebs with some Nordic exercise !

January sees the birthday of our first prime minister, John A Macdonald, on January 11. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland on this day in 1815.

January is also National Blood Donor month, so for those that are eligible, please consider donating blood sometime this month. More details can be found at: Canadian Blood Services Canada's Lifeline

Remember that many of our local businesses and attractions remain open, so please take the opportunity to support them. A hot coffee and treat is always welcome after a brisk walk in the cold, or perhaps to freshly prepared fish and chips ! Check out the many tempting highlights on some of the local Facebook pages.

Please note that Town Hall will be closed on February 19, 2024 for Nova Scotia Heritage Day.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

2023 in Review

As we welcome 2024 and all that it will bring, here are some of the highlights from 2023:

- The Town and the Annapolis Royal Volunteer Fire Department successfully negotiated an agreement to clarify mutually agreed objectives, roles, and responsibilities and who pays for what.
- Town staff brought in just over $215,000 in grants since April 1, 2023. Thanks to the work of the BoT, AIRO, the Farmers' and Traders' Association and Town staff, another $75,000 came in from ACOA for the Annapolis Refresh! Project that resulted in the artwork by Lorne Julien at the end of the wharf, the tables and chairs and extra storage space at Market Square, among other things.
- The Twinning Committee delivered the very successful inaugural Pierre Dugua Day to honour the man who financed the establishment of Port Royal over 400 years ago. It also welcomed an 11-person delegation from France last summer which included the Mayor and two Deputy Mayors. The highly successful visit was predominantly funded through volunteer effort which included grant writing and sponsorships, and involved the City of Royan, the Municipality of the District of Clare, the Municipality of the County of Annapolis as well as the Town.
- The Town, the Municipality of the County of Annapolis, and the Town of Middleton formed an inter-municipal working group in an effort to better collaborate and cooperate on a whole range of municipal services. Meanwhile, a single board (the Interim IMSA Pilot Project Board), which includes representation from the seven municipal units in Kings and Annapolis counties continues to successfully operate Valley Waste and Kings Transit.
- The installation of a solar garden at the sewage treatment plant is well underway.
- Three members of Town staff received Queen Jubilee Medals: former Superintendent of Public Works Kevin McLean, Police Chief Mark Kane, and CAO Sandi Millett-Campbell.
- The Town's strategic plan developed in 2021 received its second annual update in 2023 and continues to guide us.
- The Town partnered with the YMCA for a summer day camp.
- After the sad loss of Deputy Mayor Pat Power, we held a by-election and welcomed Paul Wear as a Town Councillor.
- The Police Department continued to pursue alternate source of revenue by providing criminal records checks for Triton Canada. It also launched a very successful first "mitten tree" during the holiday season in partnership with St Luke's Anglican Church.
- It was great to see major events like Pride and Natal Day celebrations back after the years of COVID restrictions, thanks to the efforts of many volunteers.
- With winter upon us, it was also good news that the Town qualified for a generator that will be installed at the Hub. This will provide a third option for a comfort centre in Town in addition to the Fire Hall and the Legion.

While the Town faces many challenges, it is always good to look back and acknowledge what has been accomplished in community by and with others as well as the many things that remain to be done.

Mayor Amery Boyer, B. Mus., MBA

COMMUNITY

Don't forget to prepare or replenish your 72hour emergency kit!

Emergency Kits

In an emergency, you will need some basic supplies. You may need to get by without power or tap water. Be prepared to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours.

You may have some of the items already, such as food, water and a battery operated or wind-up flashlight. The key is to make sure they are organized and easy to find. Would you be able to find your flashlight in the dark? Make sure your kit is easy to carry and everyone in the household knows where it is. Keep it in a backpack, duffle bag or suitcase with wheels, in an easy-to-reach, accessible place, such as your front-hall closet. If you have many people in your household, your emergency kit could get heavy.

It's a good idea to separate some of these supplies in backpacks. That way, your kit will be more portable and each person can personalize his or her own grab-and-go emergency kit.

CHIEF'S CORNER

Winter Driving.

This is just a reminder to check your vehicle lights are on when driving in the winter, we are seeing an increase in drivers thinking all lights are functioning because of running lights. For safety and visibility ensure you check your lights.

Chief Mark Kane

Also, with the potential for weather bringing snowstorms at this time of year, this is just a reminder to ensure all town roads are clear during the winter months for snow removal after such storms. It ensures snow removal can be completed safely.

Neighbourhood Safety

Crime is not randomly distributed. It results from the convergence in time and space of the potential criminal with a suitable target, in a location and situation that favours the offender.

Crime prevention is the anticipation, recognition and appraisal of a crime risk, and the initiation of some action to remove or reduce it.

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED):

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) is a proactive crime prevention strategy predicated on the belief that proper design and management of a built environment, including parking lots, parks, schools and just about anything in a community can lead to a reduction in the incidence and fear of crime and improvement in the quality of life.

Benefits of CPTED:

- Reduces crime
- Reduces fear (perception of crime)
- Reduces liability
- Cost savings (initial development)
- Promotes partnerships
- Enhances problem solving
- Improves the quality of life for all

Territorial Reinforcement:

Territorial reinforcement creates clear borders of controlled space from public to semi-private so that community members develop a sense of proprietorship over them, thereby discouraging potential offenders.

Surveillance and Access Control:

Surveillance is an idea designed to keep potential intruders or attackers under the threat of surveillance, or being watched, so as to deter them from offending. Access Control increases the perceived risk to potential offenders which denies them access to potential crime targets.

The three types of surveillance/access control are:

- Natural
- Mechanical
- Organized

Clearing of Snow and Salting of Sidewalks on St. George Street

Town of Annapolis Royal

We Need to Work Together

Regarding the clearing of snow and salting of sidewalks on St. George Street from 324 St. George to Drury Lane, Public Works will make every effort to assist Businesses/Property Owners/Managers in accordance with our "Snow and Ice Control Policy" and our "Streets and Sidewalks" By-Law. However, Businesses/Property Owners/Managers bear the primary responsibility to keep the sidewalk in front of their properties clear and passable after any weather event.

This requirement is not new and has been in effect for several years. This letter is being sent now because many Businesses/Property Owners/Managers (with a few notable exceptions) are making no effort to keep the sidewalks clear and passable in front of their properties.

Public Works is happy to assist as a courtesy, but this must be a team effort.

Thank you.

Ken Knox ' Director of Municipal Operations and Development

What's New in 2024? Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR)

PART I

Canada is one of the 20 founding members of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and is therefore implementing an Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) policy. This environmental policy places responsibility for a product's post-consumer stage on the producer. For now, the policy refers to plastic and paper packaging.

An EPR policy is characterized by:

1. the shifting of responsibility (physically and/or economically; fully or partially) upstream toward the producer and away from municipalities; and

2. the provision of incentives to producers to take into account environmental considerations when designing their products.

Dr. Starr Caldwell, a member of the Town's Environmental Advisory Committee, talked to Andrew Garrett of Valley Waste to learn more about EPR and how it will affect us in the future. This is the first of a two-part Q&A that will be featured in this newsletter.

How does Valley Waste see these impacting customers? New regulations will see brand owners become responsible for managing the collection, processing, and marketing of household recycling. That is essentially what we currently place at the curb, in blue bags, there are still a number of unknowns that will become more clear over the next year. Organizations representing brand owners (a Producer Responsibility Organization or 'PRO', (will be consulting with solid waste authorities on how they plan to meet the regulations.

The recycling sorting list will likely be expanded for all of the Province to include more packaging. It's still unknown how recycling will be collected; it could stay the same as it is now or may be collected with a separate truck. Other provinces have moved to carts/boxes for collection and some areas have more drop-offs for harder to handle items like glass. Collection limits or tipping fees may also be eliminated for residential recycling as the consumer has already paid for the management of packaging during the purchase of goods.

Will there be less packaging from producers? The concept is that producers will be responsible for the costs and operational management of packaging so there may be less, however we still encourage consumers to make informed choices to reduce unnecessary packaging.

I note that only large producers are required to participate—what portion of waste in the Town of Annapolis Royal and the County of Annapolis is created by these large companies? Businesses that have less than a million dollars in gross revenue or use less than 1 tonne of packaging/paper per year are exempt. While some smaller producers may still be affected, the vast majority of packaging and printed paper is generated by large producers.

What happens if a producer refuses to comply with the new program? Divert NS has been designated as an oversight organization in NS to ensure individual producers comply with the regulations and that brand owners are meeting the required targets. To date it is unclear what the consequences will be for producers that are not compliant. In general, large brand owners have been supportive of these regulations.

What are the estimated cost increases to producers that are likely to be passed on to customers? Will producers have to retool their production and packaging? Brand owners have already included costs of post-consumer recycling in the price of consumer products since this regulation is already in place across Canada and has been implemented in many provinces for a number of years. Nova Scotians have been paying for recycling programs in other provinces in the purchase price of consumer goods, and then a second time through municipal property taxes.

When is the program expected to be implemented? The changes come into effect in December 2025.

Part II will be included in the March issue of the Town Crier Newsletter.
